Accused dope pusher charges irregularities

While awaiting disposition in his case, an accused dope pusher out on a $15,000 appeal bond leveled charges of an illegal arrest and untrue accusations made against him by two policemen and denied having agreed to act as a "plant" to trap another alleged narcotic peddler. A jury found the man guilty Feb. 7 after deliberating 40 minutes. U. S. District Court Judge James A. Nolan handed down the sentence resulting from the two-day trial.

Curtis S. Burhannon, 35, 1230 W. 18th was found guilty on two charges of violation of the 1935 Narcotics Act and concealing.

Mr. Burhannon's troubles stem from an incident occurring in January, 1966, when he was accused by Lt. Richard Jones, head of the police department narcotics department, and Sgt. Dora Ward, a policeman. He was stopped by the two riding in an unmarked police car as he was getting into a cab in Mr. Burhannon said Lt. Jones told him he had been under surveillance and the officers came out of the rear because he "looked suspicious." At the trial the fact was brought out through pictures and a witness that it was highly improbable that the police could have seen Mr. Burhannon embark from the back steps since the officers were parked in an alley at least 175 feet away from the apartment building around the corner. An eight-foot brick wall conceals the steps leading to the building.

Lt. Jones also testified that from his car, parked in front of the cab, he was able to see through the cab's windshield and dashboard, the packages between Mr. Burhannon's legs. Sgt. Ward came to the police car holding two packages wrapped in aluminum foil. The alleged dope suspect denied knowledge of the packages which Lt. Jones said contained narcotics although the bundles were not opened. Sgt. Ward

Exhibit of Negroes progress to highlight Negro History Week

An exhibit of products and wares made by Negroes will highlight the Federation of Associated Clubs' observance of Negro History Week Sunday.

The display may be viewed by the public from 3 to 7 p.m., at the FAC Home, 2309 N. Capitol.

The federation opened its observance in the office of Mayor John J. Barton last Thursday with the signing of a proclamation announcing the official observance of "Negro History Week."

On Sunday Rozelle Boyd, Crispus Attucks High School history teacher and a member of the Marion County Council, gave a challenging and inspirational speech on "The Negro in Three Dimensions — Past, Present and Future."

He stated that historically, "the Negroes in the United States are American rather than African because they were stripped of their African heritage in that they had to adopt a new language, new God and a new way of life."

"As a result," he stated, "the Negro as a product of American history was part of and yet apart from the majority group. Negro African history has been neglected; consequently, the American Negro had only the whiteman's stereotype only."

Jacob introduces bill against runaway pappies

WASHINGTON — Congressman Andrew Jacobs Jr. last week introduced two bills aimed at insuring that "runaway pappies" fulfill their financial obligations to their wives and children.

One of the bills is closely patterned after legislation originally introduced by the 11th District Congressman's father, Andrew Jacobs Sr., when he served in the 81st Congress.

The measure, subsequently introduced by the Hon. Winfield K. Denton, former Eighth District Indiana Congressman, has both civil and criminal sanctions relating to the evasion of family responsibility.

It provides that a wife or child who has a support order could register it in a state court or a Federal district court

NAACP head scores TV station

In a telegram today the Walter F. White Branch of The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People urged WISH-TV to discontinue its viewing, the film "The Little Rascals," each Saturday morning.

Mrs. Doris Ward, branch president, said that the program is offensive, stereotyped and projects a negative image of the Negro in a time when efforts are being made to move barriers that have created the misconceptions of the past and, instead, to arrive at realistic understandings between black and white. Much of the responsibility for creating a favorable image of the Negro lies with the schools and the communications industry — radio, TV, and newspapers.

WISH-TV Mrs. Ward said, is derelict in its duty when it persists in showing "The Little Rascals." Mrs. Ward said February is the beginning of Negro History Week and this type of programming is certainly not in keeping with its purpose.

Penalties prescribed by the bill would be a fine of not more than $2,500 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both.

The second bill in the "runaway pappy" package would amend the Social Security Act to provide for assistance by the Federal agency in locating fathers who have deserted their families.

Under provisions of the measure, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare would be obliged to disclose "to courts of competent jurisdiction" the current addresses of deserting husbands or the addresses of their employers.

In introducing the companion measures, Congressman Jacobs said:

"It doesn't seem sensible to let a father stand on the other side of the state line, outside the legal jurisdiction of his own state and thumb his nose at his children."

"Enactment of the measures I have introduced today would mean that no longer will the crossing of state lines provide a practical sanctuary for 'runaway pappies.'"

Weaver moves to bar more Jim Crow homes

WASHINGTON — The operating heads of the new Department of Housing and Urban Development have been ordered to take immediate steps to implement the Johnson Administration's non-discrimination regulations or explain why they cannot carry them out.

The blunt memorandum from Secretary Robert C. Weaver to the department's four assistant secretaries and seven regional directors was confirmed this week after Weaver exchanged sharp criticism with former colleagues of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

The order issued last month requires all of the department's agency heads to submit a progress report in 30 days on the directives regarding all HUD business to conform to Title Six civil rights regulations prohibiting the use of Federal funds on a discriminatory basis.

"I wouldn't say it was not stronger than usual. It makes certain we mean to have all the orders of the secretary carried out and that's that," said a top spokesman for Weaver.

The directive spells out firm steps for bringing HUD's vast multi-billion dollar financing program for the housing industry into line with other government agencies in the use of Federal money.

"Where there has been discrimination, the (housing development) sponsor involved will have to show that he has developed and implemented an affirmative open occupancy program before he can be reinstated in the program," says the policy statement.

"In addition to a firm offer of a sale to the complainant at a price no higher, there must be demonstrated to the satisfaction of HUD that future operations will be on a non-discriminatory basis," it states in relation to private sales.

The directive was sent to agency heads long before the NCHD leveled its charges that HUD is lagging in carrying out the administration's civil rights regulations, said a spokesman for the new department.

Weaver and fair housing proponents issued statements critical of each other regarding support of the government's role in the housing industry last week.

The federal government is primarily responsible for building a ghetto system that "has created racial alienation and tensions so explosive that the

Rep. Powell's wife testifies before group

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's estranged wife, Mrs. Yvette Flores Powell, told the committee investigating her husband that she has not done any work in one and a-half years and she has not received but two checks. Mrs. Powell expressed hopes that the committee will agree to seat her husband.

Meanwhile it was disclosed that a company known as Huff Enterprises Ltd., a Bahamian corporation, operates from Rep. Powell's office. Its president is Corrine A. Huff, Rep. Powell's 25-year-old secretary.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Expected to be a climax to public hearings into the fitness of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell to serve in the U. S. Congress was the testimony Thursday of his estranged wife, Yvette Flores Powell, who was to fly from Puerto Rico Wednesday to face the select investigating committee.

It was speculated that Rep. Powell's eight attorneys are building a case for appeal to the Supreme Court in the event the House declines to seat him. Some suggested, as did Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), that Congressman Powell hurt his chances of being seated after failing to testify before the committee last Wednesday. The committee is studying five possible decisions in the Powell case and must give its report by Feb. 23.

In Detroit, Mich., the strike to protest what was called "a double standard" applied to Powell turned out to be a flop after far less industrial workers and teachers expected to stay home from work went instead.

At the expulsion of six Negro employees from Rep. Powell's former House Education and Labor Committee, civil rights leaders charged racial discrimination, although the charge was strongly denied by the new chairman, Representative Carl Perkins of Kentucky. Half of those dismissed were Negro and the other half white. Rep. Perkins retained five Negro members on the committee. Chairman Perkins said several

A marked increase of 33 percent over 1965 was noted in funds raised by the United Negro College Fund which raised a total of $99,242.11 in the Indiana-Louisville area during the campaign.

Dr. Otto K. JFK's death puts Bayh in spotlight as head of obscure subcommittee

In August, 1963, the chairman's seat of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Constitutional Amendments was suddenly emptied by the death of Estes Kefauver. The post was comparatively insignificant and James O. Eastland, the full committee's chairman, was scratching about for someone to fill it.

Nobody volunteered, except an eager beaver from Indiana named Birch Evan Bayh Jr., who was then 35 years old, and only seven months a senator.

Freshman senators do not usually get even such obscure chairmanships, but Eastland was impressed by Bayh's ambition and willingness to work.

Three months later, John F. Kennedy was dead, Lyndon Johnson was President and there was no vice president. There were two men next in line of succession: one was 72

Action to come up Saturday at board meet

The NAACP has expressed state-wide opposition to the civil rights bill passed Feb. 10 by the Indiana Senate aimed at maintaining "racial balance" in neighborhoods and a member of the group said Thursday he will propose at a state NAACP board meeting here Saturday that the bill be protested before the Indiana Supreme Court.

By a rollcall vote of 44-2 the Indiana Senate passed the controversial resolution composed by the Indiana Civil Rights Commission headed by Harold O. Hatcher. William Hardy, NAACP Midwest Regional director, said the NAACP "did not endorse the bill and rumors to this effect are untrue since the NAACP considers the bill unconstitutional."

The measure, which legalizes restrictive housing agreements, gives the Commission the power to approve voluntary agreements in integrated neighborhoods or apartments preventing sale or lease of housing to additional Negroes.

Mr. Hardy noted: "Segregation is segregation regardless of how you look at it. The NAACP state president, Mrs. Jeanette Strong of Gary, has made it clear that the NAACP does not endorse the 'implied segregated housing bill.' He said the court suit action will come up at the board meeting beginning at 9 a.m. in the downtown Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel.

Joining Mr. Hardy on this stand was Sen. Nelson G. Grills (D-Indpls.) who also called the bill unconstitutional on the grounds that it permits discrimination. Sen. Earl F. Landgrebe (R-Val.) also voted against the bill.

The bill's author, Sen. Patrick E. Chavis (D-Indpls.), the only Negro in the Senate, contends the bill is a "practical step toward a goal for Negroes and whites living in harmony in the same neighborhoods."

While Sen. David Rogers (D-Bloomington) said the bill would "eliminate fears in white neighborhoods that the first sale of a home to a Negro would start a 'tidal wave' toward an all-Negro neighborhood," Mr. Hardy said the bill is a thing "white people would endorse."

He noted that this type of integrated housing would be tasteful to white people but not for Negroes. He said: "I certainly wouldn't want to be the third Negro family to move in."

Miss. Senator heads strategic committee

WASHINGTON — Even before its introduction, segregationist Senator James O. Eastland of Mississippi said late Wednesday that the proposed civil rights legislation recommended to Congress by President Johnson "will be defeated if I have anything to do with it."

Eastland, a Democrat, is chairman of the powerful Senate Judiciary Committee, burial ground of past civil rights legislation, including a bill proposed by the Chief Executive last year.

The bill proposed by the Chief Executive would become effective in progressive steps.

It provides for the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to carry on education and conciliation measures to seek an end to discrimination in housing. Secondly, it would prohibit discrimination in housing financed or insured by the Federal Government.

Next year, the law would be extended to dwellings sold or rented by someone other than occupants and to dwellings housing five or more families.

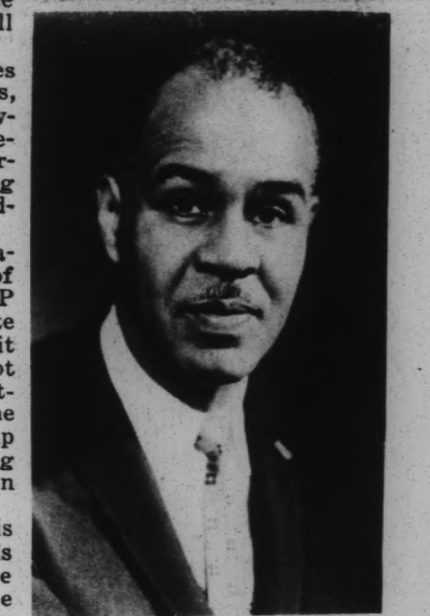

By 1969 the act would apply to all housing.

The bill also calls for strengthening of existing laws against interference with civil rights workers, require that juries in Federal courts be selected on a nondiscriminatory basis, and the elimination of all forms of discrimination in the selection of state juries.

It would also authorize the

NEW YORK — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, will receive the 1967 Freedom Award March 29 for "courageous and responsible leadership in the civil rights movement."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will make the presentation address when Wilkins receives the award.

The award was announced by former Sen. Paul H. Douglas, who has been named board chairman of Freedom House, devoted to strengthening free institutions at home and abroad.

Wilkins was singled out. Douglas said, "because he has steered through a precise though difficult course, taking persuasive action under law, while rejecting the disruptive tactics of the extremists."

Tuffy Mitchell faces Federal tax liens now

Isaac (Tuffy) Mitchell, who less than a year ago served two years of a five-year prison term on charges of violating Federal gambling laws in the operation of a giant numbers racket, is now confronted with nearly $2 million worth of Federal tax liens filed against him by the U. S. government.

Mr. Mitchell, who was convicted of the charges in 1963, has one lien pending against him charging he has an unpaid balance of $15,205.24 on his Federal income tax liability for 1963.

The largest lien — $1,980,683.71 — was assessed for excise tax deficiencies for July 1, 1955, to June 30, 1963.

The government has claims in these sums against any property or assets in Mr. Mitchell's name. The accused gambler is employed by the American Junk Company, 358 W. 10th.

Mayor Moving backwards speaker says

Speaking before the 27th Ward, Fifth Precinct Club Richard G. Lugar said that Mayor John J. Barton, while saying Indianapolis is moving ahead, "he is moving backwards and it is time to point this out to those who have found it difficult to chart his course."

Mr. Lugar, considered by some as a potential Republican candidate for mayor, noted: "And many who run for mayor of Indianapolis in 1967 without the willingness or ability to enlist the very best managerial talent which Indianapolis possesses is fooling both himself and the voters into believing that considerable progress will be made in Indianapolis."

The GOPer pointed out that Mayor Barton publicly testified against the very bill which his appointed Greater Indianapolis Progress Committee had drafted to resolve the great jumble of overlapping inefficiency which has produced negligible local road and street building for years.

"The Indiana House of Representatives passed the Metropolitan Thoroughfare Authority Bill by a vote of 94-0 indicating that Republicans and Democrats from one end of the state to the other saw little merit in our mayor's testimony and considerable merit in the combined efforts of talented and dedicated citizens who want solutions to problems," he added.

Mr. Lugar, who said the next mayor must be honest and just, a man above reproach on the basis of character, continued: "Men of good intent who lack imagination and foresight can squander precious tax resources and human talent almost as rapidly as outright scoundrels."

crisis in our cities now borders on "catastrophe," declared Edward H. Rutledge NCHD executive director.

The 32-page report released by Rutledge on government activity in housing is especially critical of Weaver who was formerly chairman of the fair housing committee composed of representatives of some 40 major civil rights groups.

Despite regulations barring discrimination in government financed housing, federal housing agencies continue doing business with discriminatory builders, lenders and real estate brokers, the NCHD reports states.

The Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration "together have financed more than $120 billion worth of new housing since World War II, but less than two percent of it has been available to nonwhite families and most of that on a strictly segregated basis," says the comprehensive document.

NCHD is not necessarily seeking a stronger executive order on housing than that issued by the late President Kennedy or new housing legislation sought by President Johnson, but directives strengthening the HUD requirements "in any manner the President wishes to issue them," said Rutledge.

Attucks A'Cappella choir is in concert for P. T. A.

The talented 100-voice Crispus Attucks High School A'Cappella Choir will be presented in a public concert Friday, Feb. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Julian B. Coleman auditorium, 1140 N. West. Norman Merrifield directs the outstanding choral group.

The Parent-Teacher Association, which is sponsoring the program, urges all parents and the general public to come out and support the PTA and the choir. Donation is $1.

This concert is the third of five community concerts to be given this year by the choir. Two others will be presented at Trinity Church and Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

The choir will be heard on radio station WIBC Feb. 26 assisted by the famous Attucks Boys Ensemble and four senior soloists. The accompanist for the group is Mrs. Dolphia Hart. The choir will also take part in the Indianapolis High School Choir Festival in May at Clowes Hall.

Choir officers are Leroy Parran, president; Carlton Holt, vice-president; Pamela Davis, secretary; Joanne Malone, assistant secretary, and Winnie Davis, assistant secretary.

Rev. W. T. Gibson is PTA president. Alexander Moore is Attucks principal. Mrs. Robert Cureton is PTA publicity chairman.

Another noteworthy feature at Attucks was a special program presented by the Woodwin Quintette Monday, Feb. 13. The Quintette is sponsored by the Young Audiences of America.

Musicians Albert Saurina, flute; Warren Sutherland, O. boe; Howard Hanson, clarinet; Phillips Huffman, French horn, and Robert Thompson, bassoon, presented an educational music-

About 150 Attucks pupils, most of them studying music, attended the program. This is the fourth year that the Quintette has played at Attucks. Members of the Quintette, all regular members of the Indianapolis Symphony, said that they had a most attentive and responsive audience.

The Young Audiences of America is a nation-wide organization. Their purpose is to provide regular musicians to play for high school pupils so that the audience is able to get closer to artists and have opportunities to ask questions at special question-answer sessions after each program.

Goodwill notes progress made in businesses

Indianapolis Goodwill Industries is on its way to its 10 millionth dollars in wages to handicapped workers being rehabilitated at the workshop.

The $9 millionth dollar was paid Feb. 2 as a highlight of Goodwill's 37th annual membership luncheon meeting in the Sheraton - Lincoln Hotel.

Job placement of 171 handicapped workers in outside business and industry compared to 165 in 1965. Sales in the eight Goodwill stores amounted to $1,059,379.83, which was $66,000 more than 1965 and the first million-dollar year since Goodwill started serving the handicapped in 1930. The public provided a record number of filled Goodwill bags with 620,144 compared to 525,945, in 1965. The many rehabilitation services at the Goodwill plant increasing during the year include psychological, work evaluation, work adjustment, vocational training, employment and other conditioning to prepare the handicapped for useful employment.

Medicare patients are invited to check claims made

Older people in the Indianapolis area who have paid doctor bills but have not yet claimed their medicare doctor bill insurance payments are invited to have their claims checked by the Indianapolis social security officer before mailing them to the medicare carrier.

"In the first seven months of the medicare program some benefit payments were delayed because the applicants did not include all the necessary information with their claims," Joseph D. Heckle, district manager, noted.

Mr. Heckle said most people will need this help only the first time they make a medical insurance claim. "The Medicare Handbook, which is given to all beneficiaries, explains how to make the claims," he said, "and the form is relatively simple, but most people can use some advice the first time they apply. We're glad to offer assistance, and we believe we can help many people to avoid some delay in their payment."

Mr. Heckle noted that the medicare claim may be made either by the patient or by the doctor, if he accepts assignment of the insurance. If the doctor applies for the medicare payment, he bills the patient only for any part of the $450 deductible that still remains to be paid and for 20 percent of the bill over the $50 deductible.

Under the other method of payment the doctor bills the patient, and then the patient sends the completed request for payment form to the medicare carrier. A statement from the doctor showing the treatment given and the charges already paid by the patient must be furnished either on the request for payment form or in a separate receipted bill.

In the Indianapolis area, medicare doctor bill insurance is handled by Mutual Medical Insurance Inc., 110 N. Illinois.

Negroes claim mistreatment in E. Berlin

BERLIN — After a spokesman maintained that two Negro prisoners behind the bars in East Berlin were treated well due to their color, the released pair repudiated this statement Saturday by claiming they were mistreated because they were colored.

Moses R. Herrin, 25, of Akron, Ohio, and Frederick Matthews, 24, of Elwood City, Pa., stated they were discriminated against and derided. They were sentenced to eight years in prison on charges of aiding refugees from communism.

A spokesman previously said the pair noted: "The Communists told us we were being mistreated back in the States" so they were being well-treated while prisoners.

Mr. Herrin declared: "In the prison at Bautzen they would not let me take a bath for three weeks. They told me I had no need to bathe because I am black and the dirt would not show." Matthews also said he was given a "hard time."

Two other people, a white man and woman, were also released by the East Germans. William W. Lovett, 26, of San Francisco, said the Communists beat him, but Mary Battle of Oak Ridge, Tenn., said her treatment was "generally good."

GOP seeks to revitalize its minorities program

CLARENCE L. TOWNES JR.
Influential GOPer

Under the direct leadership of an influential Negro Republican leader, the GOP is mapping major plans in an effort to gain more Negro support of its party.

Clarence L. Townes Jr., special assistant to Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss, is attempting to revitalize a minorities program which will renew the faith of Negro citizens in the traditional philosophy of the Republican party.

The 39-year-old Mr. Townes, who became active in Republican politics in 1950 when he worked in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign, quoted the ex-president in noting: "I am a Republican because I share our Party's deep-lying trust in what free men can do—a fundamental trust in the nature and capability of individual human beings."

He is making this Eisenhower quote the cornerstone from which his minorities division wages its programs designed to bring Negro voters into the mainstream of GOP politics.

According to Mr. Townes, paramount to the success of the minorities division is the active seeking at all times, of Negro confidence and Negro support. The first step being the selling of GOP concepts to Negro voters by convincing religious, civic, political and the general community that the Republican Party has the political organization through which their aspirations can be sought.

Mr. Townes declared that he will achieve the objective, of upping the minority voter credo through a network of creative organizing and public relations activities within Negro communities.

A native of Richmond, Va., Mr. Townes is a graduate of Virginia Union University. He is married to the former Grace Harris of Richmond and the pair has four children.

In his early career, Mr. Townes worked for two prominent Negro newspapers. He has been active in civic activities in Richmond and is now director of training for the Virginia Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company and is a veteran. The Republican leader entered the army in January, 1951, as a private and was discharged in August, 1953, as a second lieutenant.

specialists would be hired and it was likely one would be a top Negro educator.

The committee had earlier requested the presence of Rep. Powell, and subpoenaed Mrs. Powell and Miss Corrine Huff, a former Ohio beauty queen and Rep. Powell's secretary, to testify Tuesday. It was still not known at press time Thursday whether Miss Huff, reportedly on the Bahama isle of Bimini, Powell's favorite vacation spot, would appear before the committee. There was some doubt at first of the legality of issuing a subpoena for Miss Huff since she is residing outside the United States at a British possession in the Bahamas.

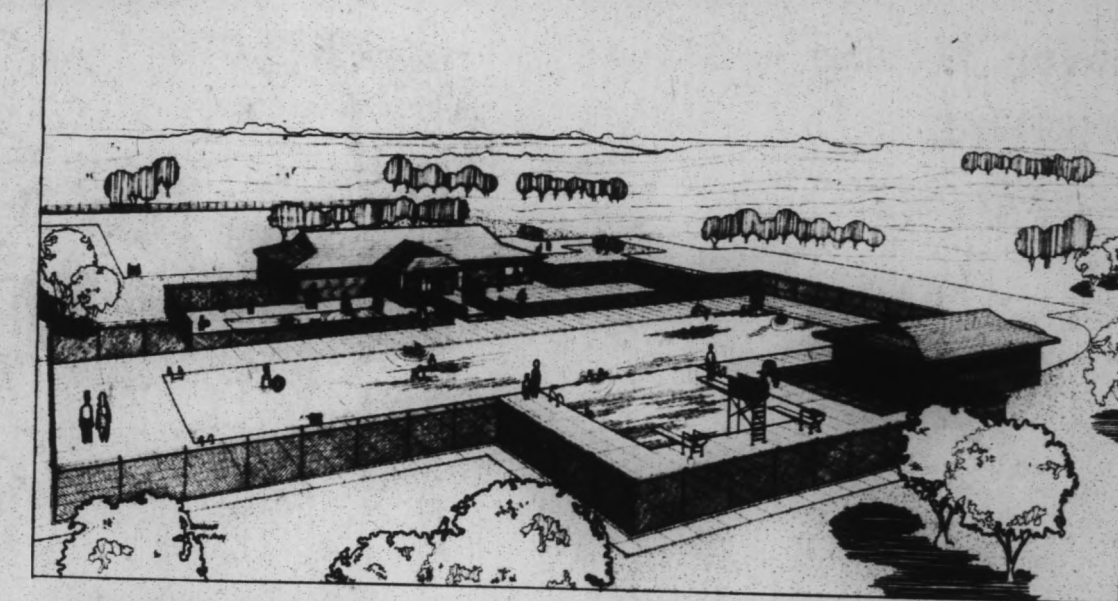

Mrs. Powell is expected to testify on the work she performed and the pay she received as a $20,500 staffer before being fired last year for refusal to appear before the committee. Rep. Powell contended that his wife answered letters from Spanish speaking correspondents.

Miss Huff, who is on the payroll at $19,000 a year, is accused of traveling on committee credit with the preacher-politician. Rep. Powell reportedly repaid the committee several hundred dollars.

Subpoenas were also issued to officials of Chalk Air Lines and Mackay Air Lines, the latter a subsidiary of Eastern Air Lines. Both fly from Miami to Bimini. A government accountant and an expert on Rep. Powell's legal difficulties in New York, caused by a $174,000 libel suit won against him, are also expected to testify.

Congressman Powell's lawyers have an arrangement whereby no statements are made to the press unless they are written and cleared by all of them so none of them would be quoted on this point.

A legal source contrasted the similarity of the Powell case and Julian Bond's trouble which

CALDWELL — In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother

MRS. CARRIE CALDWELL who passed away February 19, 1963.

When a mother breathes her last farewell

The stroke means more than tongue can tell.

The world seems quite another place

Without the smile of mother's face.

And while she lies in peaceful sleep

Her memory we shall always keep.

WINNING RUN: Charlie Greene (82) crosses finish line in indoor 60-yard dash.

The wonderful world of SPORTS

Sprinter Charlie Greene continues winning ways

LINCOLN, Neb. — Nebraska's Charlie Greene, the world's premier sprinter, has been honored by Track and Field News in its current issue. Greene has been awarded the No. 1 spot in the 1966 World Rankings, compiled by the cinder sport's bible. Charlie got the nod over Harry Jerome of Canada and here's what Track and Field News said:

"The candidates for first were Greene and Jerome. Both were undefeated and the latter tied the world record for 100 yards. But the U. S. champion (Greene) compiled his record against far stiffer competition than did his Canadian counterpart. This, plus generally superior clockings, made Greene the easy first choice."

Here's Greene's 1966 century record that zoomed him to the top spot in the world:

April 30 — .09.3, (wind; yards), Drake Relays; May 14 — .09.3, Big 8 championships; June 4 — .10.3, (meters), Compton Invitational; June 16 — .09.3, (heat; yards), NCAA; June 17 — .09.3, (yards), NCAA; June 25 — .09.4, (yards), AAU; July 16 — .10.3, Berkeley (meters); July 23 — .10.4, (meters) Los Angeles; July 25 — .09.5, (wind; yards), Pasadena; Aug. 20 — .09.5, (wind; yards), Toronto, Canada; Aug. 21 — .09.4, (yards), Buffalo, N. Y.; Sept. 7 — .10.2, (meters), Cologne, Germany; Sept. 10 — .10.2, (meters), Hagen, Germany; Sept. 11 — .10.2, (meters) St. Gallen, Switzerland.

Greene currently is on the shelf with a pulled hamstring muscle in his right leg, and may not see indoor action again until possibly the Big 8 meet in Kansas City.

Ironically, Charlie pulled the muscle at the 50-yard mark of a 60-yard race recently in Portland, Ore., but still hung on to win the race in .06.1 — and defeat Harry Jerome of Canada, the only time he has run against his chief challenger for world honors in 1966.

"I shouldn't have pulled, but I did," Greene said. "I was running very well — it would have been a .05.9 — when the pull came. My leg buckled and I sagged, the next step was at the tape, then it buckled again."

Charlie has been resting the leg this week, but plans to do some "overdistance" next week in order to "start building up strength in the leg again."

Greene feels the first possible competition new won't be before the Iowa State dual on Feb. 25.

GRIFFITH SIGNS AGAIN: Middleweight champion Emile Griffith, who last week signed to defend his title April 17 against Nino Benvenuti of Italy, lifts a chunk of snow in front of Madison Square Garden, site of the fight. The bout will be Griffith's third in less than a year.

Robinson wants to be first Negro manager

NEW YORK — Frank Robinson, who has regained stardom in the American League, has revealed another ambition — to become the first Negro baseball manager in the major league.

"The prejudice against Negroes in base ball is dying to a certain extent but it is still there," he said calmly. "It is just a matter of time before some owner breaks the color line with a manager."

"He must be a solid, sound baseball man, and not chosen merely because of his color. If he is right, he won't have any trouble at all."

Robinson gives the impression that all the glory he has won on the playing field is nothing compared to becoming a manager.

"I'd love to be one. Don't ask me why."

Robinson has plenty of glory. He is The Associated Press Male Athlete of the Year for 1966, the American League's Most Valuable Player, the American League batting champion at .316, the league's leading home run hitter at 49, the league's leader in runs batted in with 122, the winner of the Hickock $10,000 gold and diamond belt as Professional Athlete of the Year, the winner of the Babe Ruth Award as best player in the 1966 World Series and possessor of a new $100,000 per year contract.

Robinson's mellowness is new. Traded before the 1966 season by the Cincinnati Reds to the Baltimore Orioles, he came with a reputation of being somewhat hard to handle.

Leading the Orioles to the American League pennant and then to a four game sweep of the World Series over the Los Angeles Dodgers, he was all tact and diplomacy.

Now a frequent after-dinner speaker, he is poised and articulate. He had 25 engagements this winter. The previous winter he had none.

Robinson's big year in Cincinnati was 1961 when he won the National League's Most Valuable Player title.

In fact, he is the only man to be MVP in both major leagues. But in 1963 his batting average slipped to .259, rose to .306 in 1964, then declined to .296 in 1965. His popularity dipped, too. Both are on the beam now.

"I figure I have maybe seven or eight years left in baseball," he states. "I try to think about the 'good years, however. I think I have at least four or five good years. When the good years stop coming I will get out. I hope I will be sensible about it. I admire men like Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio and Sandy Koufax, who quit before they started the down grade."

"As for managing, basically all managers work the same way. They use the same strategy. Once in a while one will try something different and if it works the rest copy it."

"IF YOU have managerial material you can manage a ball club. But a .250 hitter is going to hit .250. There is no way to teach him to hit .350."

"The manager is more important for the way he handles his men. If you have an outstanding personality maybe you can get 125 percent effort out of your players or maybe 50 percent."

"Hank Bauer — the Baltimore manager — was a ball player himself. He knows how ball players feel. He handles players now the way he would have liked to be handled. He is not much on baseball strategy talk but you hear from him when you make mental errors. He is easy going and relaxed."

"I've been lucky to have had some great managers — Bauer, Birdie Tebbetts, Jimmy Dykes, Mayo Smith, Fred Hutchinson, Dick Sisler."

"I have tried to study all of them, and opposing managers, too. I have learned from each but I want to be myself."

"I don't know when it will come that we get a Negro manager in baseball and I don't know who it will be. I always felt Roy Campanella was capable but then he had that terrible accident. I'd hesitate to name the players today who could do it but you would have to include Willie Mays, Junior Gilliam, Ernie Banks and Bill White."

"As long as I can remember I have been playing baseball. It is my life. The real turning point was when I came in contact with George Powles on the sandlots of Oakland, Calif. I played American Legion baseball and then at McClymonds High School. I had pretty good marks in high school but they could have been better. I just got by, really. I was too interested in sports. I had the opportunity."

Wood, Attucks to close season in top contests

The Crispus Attucks Tigers and the Wood Woodchucks will close out the regular basketball season this weekend as they battle three of the top teams in the state.

Sporting a 12-7 record, the Tigers will travel to South Central Conference Champion Shelbyville (16-3) Friday night, and return home to play under-rated Gary Roosevelt (14-2) in a game postponed from Jan. 28.

Coach Johnny Wilson's 'Chucks (16-2) will journey to LaFayette (16-2) to face Coach Marion Crawley's third-ranking team in the state. Meanwhile, Tech, with its 18-3 record, will close out against Arlington (4-15), and City Champion Shortridge (16-5) will finish at Connersville.

Also, Howe's Hornets (13-6) was scheduled to close at Lebanon, Broad Ripple (10-8) was to meet Ritter (6-13), and Cathedral (4-15) was scheduled to meet LaFayette Tuesday night.

In last week's results, the Crispus Attucks Tigers added two victories to their record with a 77-57 win over Cathedral and a 74-63 victory over Bloomington.

In the Cathedral contest, the Irish jumped off to a 19-17 lead in the first quarter but couldn't keep up the pace as the Tigers roared back to take a 33-29 halftime lead.

Behind the sharpshooting of center Joe Leavell, who got 32 points, Attucks held a 55-39 lead at the three quarters stop. Steve Tucker added the Tiger attack with 21 points. Tom Martella had 20 for the Irish who dropped their 14th game of the season.

In the second game Saturday afternoon, Bloomington's hot Panthers gave the Tigers all they could handle for 16 minutes of basketball, but fell before the mighty Attucks attack, paced by Leavell's 28 markers and Tucker's 17.

Bloomington hit nearly 60 percent of their shots in the first half and led 22-15 at the first quarter. But the rebounding Tigers came on strong in the third period and outscored the visitors, 23-9, for a 61-45 lead going into the final quarter of play.

David Terry, the Panther's No. 1 scorer, was held to 14 points and only nine attempts for the entire game. Leading the Panthers was Keith Lee with 16 points, and Randy Boren had 12.

Wood had a surprisingly hard time against Chatard before taking it, 72-64. The Southsiders

'67 marks 20th season for Negroes in major leagues

BY JOE BLACK

Remember the old ode: "When winter comes, can Spring be far behind? If it's true, then once beautiful, by now slushy and bothersome snow is telling the residents of the "Windy City" that Spring should be coming in with the next gust of wind. Baseball fans know that the advent of Spring is near because their heroes of the diamond are traveling to the sunny climes of Florida, Arizona, and California for spring training.

Regardless of how good, bad, or indifferent that your winter may have been, the 1967 baseball season should hold a special significance for all Negroes.

Why? This marks the 20th anniversary of the Negroes' entrance into modern Major League Baseball. Yes, it was in April, 1947, that Jackie Robinson became a leader, when, as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, he integrated the National League.

Larry Doby became the first Negro in the American League when he joined the Cleveland Indians in July, 1947. As a race, we should bestow accolades upon these two athletes for the many unpleasant and hectic experiences that they suffered so that other Negroes could become a contributing part of the professional sports world.

Permitt me a brief moment of nostalgia as I recall the names of some of my old cronies:

WILLARD BROWN — Hank Thompson, Dan Bankhead, "Satchel" Paige, Roy Campanella, Monte Irvin, Ford Smith Don Newcomb, "Minnie Minoso, Rafael Noble, Luke Easter, "Suitcase" Simpson, Jose Santiago, Dave Hoskins, "Sam" Jethroe, Ruben Gomez, "Artie" Wilson, Willie Mays, Jim Gilliam, Gene Baker, Sandy Amoros, Brooks Lawrence, and Sam Jones.

Did you have to don your thinking cap to recall some of these old-time Negro big leaguers? I'm surprised, because it is evidence of the overall gains that Negroes are making in the sports world.

Let's review the 20 years of the Negro in the big leagues. In '47, there were five Negroes out of 400 players in the majors. Today, one out of five ball players in the two leagues are Negro.

1. Baseball, according to sportswriters, has nine men who have signed contracts for $100,000 salaries and four of them were Negroes: Willie Mays, Frank Robinson, Roberto Clemente and Hank Aaron.

2. Fifteen times voted the Most Valuable Player in both leagues. R o y Campanella (three times); Willie Mays, Ernie Banks and Frank Robinson (twice each) are the septa leaders in this category.

3. The batting titles of both leagues have been annexed on 13 occasions by Negro ball players: Roberto Clemente (three titles); Tommy Davis, Hank Aaron and Tony Oliva, each with two titles pace this category.

4. Negro ball players have walked off with the home-run championship on 13 occurrences, the top long ball hitters are: Willie Mays with four titles and Hank Aaron (three times), Ernie Banks and Larry Doby have won the crown on two separate occasions.

5. Three Negroes have advanced to the non-playing role of coach: Jim Gilliam, Gene Baker and "Buck" O'Neil. One Negro, Bill Lucas, Public Relations and Minor League Camp Director of the Atlanta Braves, has a bona fide administrative position.

On the other hand

Biting, stinging rejection is the forte of the white backlash. This rejection is part of the angry resistance characteristic of a hard core of Northerners who are fighting the drive toward equality for the Negro.

Leading disciples of this newest subversion set for themselves during the last election the task of removing humanitarianism from the vocabulary of the Caucasian population.

The un-American credo of this outspoken sect urges that whites stop being "pushed around."

It proposes jail for unwed Negro mothers. It lashes out at elegant Negroes who can afford homes in luxury neighborhoods.

It says, "Take a stand. Resist any kind of improvement in the lot of the harassed, segregated minority population. Fight to not only keep the underdog where he is, but work to push him farther back—and thus make being white a badge of shining distinction."

The backlash hogwash may prove palatable to some. But it would seem that most Americans would see through this neurotic regurgitation.

It would seem that most would recognize that a new day has indeed arrived. This new day is one that can make the dull pallor of rust that impedes peaceful integration—a bright, shiny armor of accomplishment.

This new day can also see a kind of retrogression toward the thinking of feudal days.

How biting and stinging the backlash can become will be reflected in the results of future elections across the country.

With entrenched resistance in the South, the spread of backlash Northern recalcitrants could mean difficult days ahead.

Elections in the coming years are of tremendous importance to the future of the Negro. Consequently those citizens who are reluctant to demonstrate peacefully, or write, or speak for racial equality—can express their concern by showing up at the polls in solid ranks and voting for the liberal candidates who care about all of the people.

The President's crime message

Spurred on by the grim findings of the National Crime Commission, President Johnson has sent Congress a crime message advocating strong action on many fronts. Better law enforcement — emphatically yes. But much more is needed as well.

There must be vast improvements in basic research, correctional treatment, and crime prevention. Much more must be done to remove the conditions which breed crime. This means greater effort at all levels of government, better coordination, the willingness to spend more funds to fight this menace, and increased community and citizen support.

The President proposed that the federal government make available funds to aid state and local law enforcement agencies to develop new techniques and improve their crime-fighting efforts. He pointed out that, while combating lawlessness is primarily a matter for state and local governments, to enable them to get on top of the problem the federal government must share its know-how and provide financial assistance, even as it does in urban renewal, education, and welfare.

The President requested strong and much-needed measures for firearms control. Although he took care to point out that the legislation he proposes "will not curtail ownership of firearms used either for sport or self-protection," his recommendations are bound to call forth the full fury of the powerful firearms lobby.

His proposals are stepping up the fight against organized crime and against narcotics and dangerous drugs, while in the right direction, were not as strong as many had hoped they would be. Coupled with his recommendation for strict new federal legislation banning wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping (except where national security is at stake), some will feel the over-all thrust of these proposals is in the direction of retreat.

In the snooping controversy, Mr. Johnson came down strongly for the individual's right of privacy. Some will insist that he does so at the expense of effective law enforcement. It could stir a hornet's nest of controversy.

It is the fight against the crime menace, the country is going to have to face up to the commission's observation: "We will not have dealt effectively with crime until we have alleviated the conditions that stimulate it. To speak of controlling crime only in terms of the work of police, the courts and the correctional apparatus alone, is to refuse to face the fact that widespread crime implies a widespread failure by society as a whole."

Crime can be held in check. But to turn the tide an effort of the scope envisioned by the President and a much greater awareness and involvement on the part of the American people as a whole.

Negro Press Creed the United States of America can best lead the world away from racial and national antagonism when it accords every man, regardless of race, color or creed, his human and legal rights. Hating no man, fearing no man, the Negro Press strives to help every man in the firm belief that all are hurt so long as any one is held back.

Remember!

"Crime has its heroes, ERROR HAS ITS MARTYRS: Of true zeal and false, what VAIN JUDGES WE ARE!"

TO BE EQUAL

Economic security programs

by WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

The history of social reform in the United States shows that major advances like social security or medicare are described as radical when first proposed, then gradually become part of the accepted range of public policies and are enacted into law with the general approval of all shades of opinion. The idea of guaranteeing to all American families an income floor beneath which no one will be allowed to fall is another such idea now gaining widespread acceptance.

The idea, thought so radical just a few years ago, is now being proposed by a range of persons covering a political spectrum from Dr. Leon Keyserling, former economic aide to President Truman, to Professor Milton Friedman, who was Barry Goldwater's economic advisor, and has been endorsed by the President's National Committee on Technology, Automation, and Economic Progress, which included some of the nation's most successful businessmen.

Income maintenance plans take many forms, but the most popular seems to be that of a negative income tax. Under this proposal (and there are many variations of it), families or individuals whose incomes fall below the poverty limits would receive cash payments to bring them up to or near those limits. For a family of four earning $1,000, this would mean getting payments which would bring their income to the $3,000 poverty level (or a bit less under some of the plans). As their earnings increased, the cash payments would be reduced (for example) 50 percent, thus giving them incentives to earn more and not penalizing them with total withdrawal of the payments. These payments would stop when the family raised itself above the poverty line.

Another proposal calls for family allowances similar to those provided by other industrial nations. Canada, for example, provides cash payments to all families, giving a set amount to each child. These payments are considered a right not based on need, and since they are partially based on school attendance, have reduced dropouts sharply.

Another plan calls for far-reaching expansion of present programs like social security and unemployment insurance, increasing payments and covering persons not now eligible. Still another plan would provide a guaranteed annual income in the form of straight cash payments to all persons below the poverty line, with opportunities for public employment for those in this group who can work.

There are almost as many plans as there are people studying the problem of poverty, but what they all have in common is the realization that a country as affluent as the United States cannot tolerate the grinding poverty that afflicts so many millions of people and which perpetuates itself from generation to generation.

The benefits of a national economic security program would be great. It would eliminate poverty in that no family would be deprived of the means for the basic essentials necessary for survival. By becoming a matter of right, like social security, it would eliminate the stigma of welfare. By replacing, in part, the present welfare system, it would release millions of dollars of local welfare funds to the cities for use in coping with the range of problems facing local government. It would free welfare workers from their meaningless load of paperwork and police-like surveillance of their clients, and permit them to utilize their social work training in counseling and training people.

The entire nation would benefit because the increased purchasing power available to the poor would be spent on goods and services, stimulating the economy and creating many more jobs. The poor would benefit because they would be restored to a decent minimal level of life, without being subjected to the indignities now built into the system of welfare, and the overwhelming majority of poor people now not receiving welfare assistance of any kind, would get the help previously denied them. Only about 7½ million persons receive welfare payments, the great majority of them children or aged people, out of the 34 million poor people in the country.

Perhaps most important is that a national income security program would restore incentives to work. The basic response of people to increased income is to seek still more money. The present welfare system penalizes initiative by reducing payments for every dollar earned by the individual: the plans I have discussed would stimulate initiative, not kill it.

If the economy continues to grow at nearly the present rate, the present tax rates will yield a surplus of many billions of dollars, more than enough to pay for an economic security plan. So the question is not whether the nation can afford it, but whether it can afford not to inaugurate such a program.

Letters to the editor ...

Adam Powell reflects changing Negro: reader

To The Editor:

I have read a number of articles on Congressman Adam Clayton Powell with great interest. Mr. Powell takes great pride in himself and the fact that he is an American. To this he added to his character the characteristic of the American Negro culture and this is what the Anglo-Saxon world fears as well as those Negroes who accept the status of being a second class citizen.

Congressman Powell is a big man, not only in stature but in mind and action. This has made him a great man in his own time. He also never forgets to express the fact that he is a Negro. The white society fears all three of these points so they collect themselves in groups to condemn, scoff, ridicule, call him Negro-agitator, and link his name with Communism.

What the white majority and some Negroes are experiencing is the changing Negro. This change is something that the "go-slow advocates" aren't willing to accept, not because he thinks the Negro is inferior.

We have the Adam Clayton Powell's, Brooks and Rowan's to prove it couldn't be the fear of inferiority or uneducated. The fear lies in the fact that the white man was taught that he was superior to the Negro all through American history and he still would like to live with this lie. I have read many of the Civil Rights Bills and I refuse to accept any because they are only a repetition of the "go-slow advocates" who refuse to accept a change. The majority will have to get some of the hate and bigotry out of their hearts before any of the laws will work.

I know you have experts on Negroes and their culture, but they can't explain the riots that have occurred in some of our largest cities. They contend that they have given the Negro everything they thought they wanted, but never asking them if this was suitable for their needs.

I am a strong believer in integration but it is not ultimate. It is a method and this is subject to a change. I do believe in all the freedom set forth in the Constitution of the United States. If you will examine the records, all the rights denied the Negro are set forth in the Constitution.

I think the White Americans had better heed the warning of the change of times and be willing to accept these facts before it's too late. The "new" Negro will not come in your back door, stand up for you on buses and play second fiddle because of his race. I hope there will never be another case such as Honorable Congressman Adam Clayton Powell's being refused to stay in his place and be a Negro Congressman, Minister from Harlem.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

February - the month of pretended Brotherhood

By ANDREW W. RAMSEY

Unlike the Catholic countries where periodically celebrations are thrown in the names of various saints and the populace knocks itself out by festive having no religious connotations, we here in America make amends for our treatment of various categories of persons and animals by setting aside certain weeks or days in which we can practice being kind to the usually neglected beneficiaries of the portion of the calendar set aside for them.

We have such things as kind to animals week, Mother's Day, Father's Day, and Children's Day. The most successful of these set-aside periods is Mother's Day simply because the commercial interests have found a way to make it into a profitably celebration. People who have been unkind to their mothers all of their lives feel compelled to wear red roses for them and give them gifts if they are living or to wear white roses and look sad if they are dead. Father's Day lags behind Mother's Day in importance simply because the purveyors of goods have not found the formula to stimulate the big spending characteristic of Mother's Day.

The other special days and weeks are generally ignored by the majority of the population. No exception is Race Relations Sunday or Brotherhood Week or Brotherhood Month (February).

Long before the Civil Rights Revolution churches with a feeling of guilt for having mouthed words about a brotherhood in which they really did not believe, promoted the setting aside a Sunday to celebrate the non-existent brotherhood. Generally there was an exchange of speakers.

Many white congregations welcomed a Negro speaker, who was supposed to tell the white people that Negroes were very happy with the race relations in the community and the Negro church politely would receive a white speaker who assured the congregation that he had always admired "you people" and that his congregation felt the same way.

Many churches feeling double guilt suggested that a whole week be devoted to brotherhood and others suggested that the whole month of February be designated as Brotherhood Month.

The main effect of Brotherhood Sunday was to slightly modify the situation which found Sunday the most segregated of all of the days of the week and to put out of the minds of the members of the Negro churches any desire to belong to the church who sent its exchange speaker.

Since the opening guns of the Civil Rights Revolution fewer and fewer churches have been observing Brotherhood Day, Week or Month and most Negroes who are engaged in the fight for human dignity consider the observance as an exercise in futile hypocrisy. They simply do not comprehend the sense of having the Cross on one Sunday and the double cross the rest of the year.

It is significant that most of the churches which carry on the observance make no contributions to the real fight for human brotherhood by participating in the struggle for school integration, open occupancy in housing, equal job opportunity, fair law enforcement practices and the freedom of access of all Americans to place of public accommodation. Since in Indiana February comes every other year while the legislature is in session, it is notable that the white churches who observe Brotherhood calendar-wise are usually not to be counted when legislation to implement a theoretical brotherhood is before the legislative body.

The Christian advocates of the periodic observance of a brotherhood which exists only on paper have seldom felt that it was necessary to really get to know Negroes as people—they prefer to study them from afar. Those who find that their churches will not welcome Negroes into their membership are hypocrites if they continue to be member of such congregations if they are laymen and are lacking the courage to insist upon it if they are ministers. The laymen could join a Negro congregation if they are sincere and if they are not sincere they should cease making a mockery of the Christian religion by pretending to observe brotherhood day or even mentioning the word brotherhood as though it meant something to them.

Let's cut out the foolishness called Brotherhood Sunday or Week or Month and get on with a program which will truly make of all men brothers without the necessity of special labels.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Faithful in little and the much

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH SR.

(LARGER LESSON: Luke 16:1-15, 17:1-10. TIME A.D. 30. PLACE: Judea.) This is the unit of response. This whole lesson teaches that we are entrusted with the compassionate gifts of God. We are to properly respond in the use of money, forgiveness and gratitude to Him. Look at it as follows please: I. The Principles of Faithful Service (Luke 16:1-13). II. The Tests of Faithful Service (Luke 16:14-15). III. The Attitudes of Faithful Service (Luke 17:1-19).

THE PRINCIPLES OF FAITHFUL SERVICE. Jesus opens this 16th chapter with another of those great parables of His which has its heart and lesson. The children of this world are wiser in their generation than are the children of light. This is not a compliment to the fast practices that the unjust stewards seemed to promote nor his laziness which brought on the crises in his business, but it is an encouragement of the children of light to go into the money business always aware that He was the Lord of their business. And that they were to invest in the forwarding of the Kingdom of God with all their might and mind making due report to Him always.

Start at it in a little. Get a dime. Invest a penny in a tithe box. Get a dollar and invest it by giving one-tenth. That is the way the Rockefeller children started titling and now their foundation is doing a Woolens Sr., president of the American Fletch-er National Bank and Trust Company, told Rev. Willis Byrd and me to religiously tithe up to my income of $100 per week. Tithe if I was hungry for I owed God first.

Then give as follows: The tithe — one percent of every $25 made per week over $100. For instance if I made $110 my gift for God's cause would be at least $11.10 the tithe and $1.10 as a gift for that week. So I was taking care of tithes and offerings systematically.

I found that this works well in times like these. And to use well our mind in investing our income in God's church and for His Kingdom is highly necessary. I see no need of government subsidy of religion at no point so long as Christians be good stewards of their means with a regular tithe and a growing gift to God. So prove me now here with (Mal. 3:10).

THE TESTS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE. When Jesus said plainly you cannot serve God and money. Phillip's translation says now the Pharisees who were very fond of money heard all this with a sneer. But Jesus said unto them: "You are the people who advertise your goodness before men but God knows your hearts. Remember there are things which men consider perfectly splendid which are detestable in the sight of God."

The real test is who is master in your giving? The crowd? Your social group? The preacher? God through His Word? Who? What is your motive to be seen of men or to have Jesus and let Him reign. Remember the gospel song:

I'd rather have Jesus Than silver or gold
I'd rather be His Than have riches untold
I'd rather have Jesus Than houses or lands
I'd rather be led By His own Dear Hand
Than to be a king of a vast domain
And be held in sins dread sway
I'd rather have Jesus Than any of these things
This old world can afford to-day.

THE ATTITUDES OF FAITHFUL SERVICE. Three attitudes are given here for us to live by. The one is that if we cast our lot with Christ we must expect people to cast rocks in our road and block our way. All these parts of our living as associates of Christ and we must be very patient with those who ask one forgiveness and forgive them even to seven times per day and in a life time seventy times seven.

Nothing but prayer and faith readies us for a life this ungrateful. With a very, very little faith planted in our hearts, this seed of hate can be plucked up and thrown away. And after we've done this we have merely done by these who put blocks in our way what someone else did for us. Unappreciativeness is something that slips upon us and we find we are narrow unfaithful Cads after all. So we have nothing to boast about. We are unprofitable servants.

The last incident has to do with 10 lepers who were cleansed of this dreaded disease. Often their fingers fell off. Their eyes dropped out from their sockets. They came to the healer. He gladly healed them, but only one came back to give thanks. So as the poet writes:

When upon life's billows You are tempest tossed
When you are discouraged Thinking all is lost Count your many blessings Every doubt will fly
And you will go singing As the day goes by Count your blessings Name them one by one Count your blessings See what God has done.

The lovely-FLO GARVIN known at Naptown's "Queen of Voice and the Piano" is one of our top artists in the Midwest. The young lady has been featured on many local TV programs. She holds the all-time record for appearing at more night-spots than any other personality in the local profession. In the last decade the 'Lovely One' has opened many doors to the Sepia Entertainer. By popular demand, Miss Garvin is currently featured in the lounge of the Embers one of the finest Bistros in the city where the best of talent in the nation has top billing weekly. Why, not make it a date to dig the Queen? (BOB WOMACK, SR.).

THE SICK: We are still convalescing at home after a brief stay in the hospital (2 weeks) for surgery. We wish to take time out TO THANK all of you who sent get-well cards, flowers, dropped by, called and other kindness extended me.

Due to a lack of space on these pages we are releasing just a FEW names of friends who didn't forget the old left-hander namely—Adele and Jacky Perkins; Rev. H. L. Burton; Mrs. Mary Thompson; Claude Ryan and wife, Charlie; Arthur Van Dyke; Rev. and Mrs. Sandy Strayhorn; Mrs. I. A. Moore; Harry and Viola Vorhis; J. S. (Boss-man) Gibson; Flora J. Bates; S. L. Minor; Marshall Blair and "Big Red"; James King; Rufus Grier and Tanner; Pat Kelly of the Street Commissioner's Dept. (Burdal Parkway Garage); George Johnson and the Bobby Womack Jr. Not forgetting, Lillian Wood Williams and Jessie Mitchell.

PUBLIC SERVICE: As many of the fans know we have recently resumed the much-talked about weekly picture series of "KNOW YOUR ENTERTAINERS." This popular feature is open to the LOCAL musicians and entertainers respectively.

All you have to do if interested, is to send in a short sketch of the performer or group along with a black and white glossy photograph to Yours truly, care of the Recorder-Theatrical Dept., 518 Indiana Avenue. There is NO COST for this service. Just another in the many new features of 1967. Don't Delay! Act now!

THE PIPE LINE: Ol' Buddy Cy Jones, ex-bandleader

(just for awhile) and one of the best one-man floorshows in the city is currently doing a single on the tenor sax with Big Daddy Graham and his Trio at the Club '21.

We have been advised, the spot has standing room-only (SRO) crowds. The cat is known for his sensational horn blowing and great showmanship. The club will soon vacate their location in favor of the State Highway which is coming that way. Rumors has it that the spot will be relocated elsewhere.

Rudy and his Houserockers are still packin' them in at the 40th Street Tavern. The group is waiting every Fri. and Sat. Nites. It seems like there is a shortage of drummers for the Merrill Laswell and his hard pushing combo will invade the Holiday Inn on Washington Street soon to play for a popular social club dance. More power to you my friend. Alec (Drummer - Mnn) Shaw plans to come back in the very near future. He will be greater than ever. Believe Me!

TO LOCAL CHURCHES: Religion is fast taking advantage of the mechanized musical age. In Chicago, the Austin Westminister Presbyterian Church, has installed a juke box in the basement. By depositing your coin you can take your choice: devotional music or a sermon. How about that Rev. Burton?..

WORKING: A 28-year old Lincoln, New Hampshire, youth pukes a musical career in spite of his handicap. Although confined to an ambulance cot for ten years, Kenneth Stewart directs his own five-piece combo. In addition, he coaches

Duke Ellington's wife dies of stroke in Washington

Funeral services were conducted in Washington, D. C., last week for Mrs. Edna Thompson Ellington, wife of Edward Kennedy "Duke" Ellington. Mrs. Ellington, who had been married to the famed bandleader and composer for 47 years, was 67. She died of a stroke. Mrs. Ellington was noted for her work in religious and charitable activities.

The couple's only child, Mercer, is also a composer and conductor. An attack of pneumonia following an operation preceded the stroke.

We have been advised that Miss Eubanks is currently sportin' a Master Barber's Degree. Her beautiful shop is located at 908 East 20th Street. Why not, look her up when on the Eastside of town. Be sure to tell her that we sent you. Maybe, you just might get a free hair cut. (Smile)

SINGER EARTHA KITT, now appearing at a local supper club, was jailed several days back in Houston, Texas, when she tried to give first aid to a dying man. The charge was failure to move on. The case is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 16, and Miss Kitt said she would appear in court for trial, asking for a night off at the local night spot. She appeared on Jim Gerard TV show Monday on Channel 6.

CAPTIVATES GERMANS

BERLIN — (NPI) — In her only concert appearance in East Berlin, America's "First Lady of Songs," Ella Fitzgerald, recently accomplished what her country and the Western world has so far failed to achieve. She so completely captivated the East Germans that their usually stern critics showered accolades upon her and one — the East German news service ADN — called her "phenomenal."

STUDENT SCORES

SHREVEPORT, La. — (NPI) — Mezzo-soprano Connie Ball, a Grambling college senior, became the first Negro to perform with the Shreveport Opera, when she sang the role of Leah in the opera "Nora," as the Symphony Repertory Opera company opened its 10th season recently. One of several soloists chosen "with great care," Miss Ball was credited with giving a "commendable" performance.

The people I meet

BY BARON HARRIS

New York — THE WHEEL GOES 'ROUND. Like we've said in several columns before AD-AM CLAYTON POWELL may be down but he's a long way from being out. Now he has retained a battery of eight attorneys who are forcing the committee that is headed by Emanuel Cellars, Democrat of New York, and an arch foe of Powell, to really investigate the libel suit against the Harlem congressman brought on by that pleasant and delightful widow Esther James.

Powell's ace in the hole turns out to be two people who formerly were connected with the numbers racket in Harlem and are ready to testify that the delightful old widow indeed had alleged shady connections. New York is full of "graft taking police" whose one aim seems to be "get it while you can, baby."

Inasmuch as loyalty is con-in fighting a 'bigoted block' who are naturally against a Black man being the chairman of such a powerful committee as the Education and Labor committee.

We predict that Powell will be allowed to take his seat and don't be too surprised if he gets his chairmanship back. He fights best when the odds are against him. He also now knows just who his enemies in Congress are. The White congressional lot are a strange breed and strange bedfellows. This time they have erred badly and just don't be surprised if you read about some of the very congressmen who voted against Powell being investigated themselves.

After all 'what's good for the goose is good for a lot of ganders' and that is just what they have acted like in voting Powell out of his committee chairmanship.

None can disagree that Powell is one of the wisest men on Capitol Hill and we ain't just whistling "Dixie." He has better than 20 years of uphill fighting under his belt and he has turned the faces of his colleagues red many many times.

Whitey doesn't appreciate outstanding excellency on the part of a Black man no matter what his station might be, so they now are showing what the pay for excellency really is. They are certainly a weird bunch, to say the least, with the eyes of the world watching them. It's no wonder the communists abroad give us such a hard time when whitey is busy goofing at home. If BOBBY KENEDY challenges Johnson for the Democratic nomination for President all Black folk who are sent to the convention as delegates would do well to bury Johnson whose deeds do not match his promises. Bobby Kennedy is more shrewd than Johnson. Otherwise he would never have been able to outfox 'Johnson the fox' who sought the presidential nomination at the same time as did President Kennedy.

New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller seems to be hurriedly building for himself a platform from which to spring into the 'presidential race' comes voting time. Methinks he'll never make it and would do well to be satisfied with being Governor of the greatest state in the union. Just being that is a signal honor achieved by but few. We do not personally think he would make a good President 'cause he hasn't shown enough interest in the poorer masses of people and that's what this country has.

Comedian DICK GREGORY is running for 'Mayor of Chicago' but not running a hard POSTER'S RECORD titled enough because his interests are too divided. Comedian POE GREEN POWER, LORD has broken in Philadelphia and will soon be nationwide. Just don't forget that you read it here first. Dancer-Comedian BUSTER BROWN slated to spend the entire summer 'laying the iron on the hardwood' of Europe's better pleasure spots. Top dancer EARL (Groundhog) BASIE disgusted at not getting recognition here in the city and is returning to his hometown, Chicago. Can't say that we blame him 'cause he has taken an awful licking, one that we couldn't take. We wish him better luck there 'cause deep down he's a nice guy and only wants to dance.

It's time to put the portable 49 away and hasten to make our deadline. See you next week after we've had ample time to dream of our favorite beat, Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood, U.S.A., the city of make believe.

Humphrey says Johnson has Lincoln's plan Persons nearing 65 should seek Medicare

WASHINGTON, D. C. (CNS) President Johnson is trying to carry out the commitments Abraham Lincoln made a hundred years ago in completing the emancipation of the Negro, Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey told a cheering audience here last Friday night at an African Methodist Episcopal Church awards dinner at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

The vice-president spoke at the dinner paying tribute to Lincoln and pioneer civil rights fighters Frederick Douglass, a Negro abolitionist, and Richard Allen, who founded the AME church in protest against segregated churches.

Humphrey also announced a Negro History Week proclamation calling attention to the "many worthy deeds and contributions... the rich culture the American Negro has brought to the growth and greatness of America."

COMPARES JOHNSON AND JOHNSON

He also drew a parallel between post-Civil War President Andrew Johnson's efforts to carry out Lincoln's plans for the Negro after he was assassinated during the reconstruction era and Lyndon Johnson's present civil rights efforts following the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

"There were those who derided (Andrew) Johnson that chance and there are those who do nothing but criticize President (Lyndon) Johnson's efforts today," he declared.

"I want to assure you that your president and vice-president are not only committed and dedicated to the cause of human rights and civil rights, but we are committed in soul and spirit and mind and body to the passage of this legislation — not only to the law, but to its implementation," shouted Humphrey.

RECEIVES AWARD
The vice-president gave his remarks after he received an award for "unselfish humanitarian service to mankind regardless as to race, color or creed," from Bishop George W. Baber of the AME's Second Episcopal District.

Bishops Henry Bunton of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and the Rev. Henry H. Sink, acting for Bishop Raymond L. Jones of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, joined in presenting the Ecumenical award to the vice-president.

The ceremony followed an all day conference on Negro history and developing community leadership at the Metropolitan AME Church, five blocks from the White House.

Bishop Baber announced that $50,000 had been raised for the Kittrell Junior College during the conference. The college, supported by the AME church, provided music for the dinner.

uning in on ANDERSON

By Madelyn Irvin—Phone 644-5179

ANDERSON—Judge Carl T. Smith and Rev. Edward Fogg will serve as co-chairmen of the Anderson Urban League's 1967 membership drive. It was reported by Rev. Melvin Phillips, president of the League's board of directors.

The kick-off dinner for the campaign will be held at the Anderson YMCA at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27. Some 75 workers will participate in the effort to obtain the year's goal of 667 members.

Details of the drive were given at the board's February meeting at the Cottingham residence, 810 Walnut. Dr. Vila Deubach and Mrs. Ethel Albright were hostesses.

Nat Johnson, coach and teacher at Central Junior High and chairman of the youth education and youth incentive committee, reported on the progress of the committee's demonstration project with the sixth grade students of Shadeland School.

Through the cooperation of Principal Otto Engleman and two sixth grade teachers, Margaret Barkley and Nile E. Myers, a chart has been made up contrasting the grades of all the students for the first six weeks and the close of the first semester.

Mr. Johnson gave details on the number of students improving grades as shown in the second grading period and those whose grades fell off. He has reported on the convocation held with the students in January at which time the project was explained and the students were talked to by a panel of local business people on the subject "What Education Has Meant to Me." Additional convocations and guidance sessions were explained for the balance of the spring semester.

Mrs. Ruth J. Harper, chairman of the special committee on student study centers, reported that there are currently in operation centers at Arrow Heights Church of God, Zion Baptist Church serving Westvale, and Sherman Street Church of God serving Hazelwood.

Assisting Mrs. Harper on the committee and in supervision of the tutoring at the center are Rev. Forges, pastor of Sherman Church of God, and Max Beigh, director of counseling at Anderson Senior High School. Mrs. Harper reported that some 300 students are being helped in the three centers.

Some 36 tutors have been recruited from Anderson College with more being sought in order that no one teacher will have more than six students with the individual attention necessary to assist each student to measure up to his or her potential.

Mrs. Lazarus Turner, 4225 Linden Lane, is currently serving as supervisor of the center at Sherman St. Mrs. Harper made an urgent appeal for adults to offer their services to assist in the supervision of the work at the other two centers. Currently she is setting up the project at Zion Baptist and hopes to soon be able to turn it over to a qualified adult in order that she may coordinate the work and efforts of all three centers.

Executive director William B. Harper reported on the recent conference of the Urban League with top Federal government officials in Washington, D.C., Jan. 15-22. He also reported that a state institute of the staff and board members of the seven Indiana Leagues will be held in Elkhart in April. Some 13 board and staff members were expected to attend the silver anniversary banquet at the Marion Urban League Feb. 14 at which Dr. Whitney M. Young, of New York City, National Urban League executive director, spoke.

Among those attending the local league's February meeting were Mmes. Gladys Atkins, Ethel Albright, Clifton Gault, Paul Layton, Woody Moore, Hazel Minnifield, Ambrose Price, Ruth Harper, and E. L. Brooks, Zebadiah Christian Sr., Chet Craig, Dr. Val Clear, M. F. Kienly, M. Rossin, Judge Smith, Rev. Phillips, Leland Fisher, and James D. M. Brundel.

Miss Bessie Ingram and Rev. James Hill of Muncie were joined in matrimony Sunday, Jan. 29, at 2:30 p.m. at 800 W. 13th here.

Miss Mahala Nunn and Willie James Rolling were married Sunday, Jan. 29, at Zion Baptist Church, Rev. James Minnifield officiated.

N. D. Isonguyo of Nigeria, West Africa, was the special guest speaker recently at the Church of Christ, 4820 Columbus. He spoke on "The Characters Christians Are" and "Blessings for God Having Spoken."

Through its missionary program the Columbus Avenue congregation is sponsoring Mr. Isonguyo's college education in the United States after which he will go back to Nigeria, Africa, to serve the church there.

The first organization meeting of "Remembering Men in Vietnam" was held recently in the Chesterfield Community Center. Thelma Shaddy of Chesterfield has been the organizer for the group. Its purpose is to correspond with men in Vietnam by sending them special greetings on holidays and small gifts on their birthdays.

People in Madison County with relatives in Vietnam are to contact Frances Layton, 2234 Fairview, Anderson, with the relatives' names, addresses and birthdays.

The membership will then correspond with the man. The group is preparing to send Easter greetings to 3,000 servicemen from all over the United States that are stationed there. Three visiting teachers who recently participated in a panel discussion at the Anderson High School administration building were Leon Murphy, Anderson police department who organized and worked in the narcotics bureau; Robert Rault of the pupil personnel service and a teacher at Washington School, and Woody Moore, a probation officer with Judge Nelson Bohannon's juvenile court.

S. Bend minister is speaker

"Education and It's Relationship to Christian Living" was the topic discussed by Rev. C. C. Rowlett of Pilgrim Baptist Church, South Bend.

Dr. Rowlett spoke at the February meeting of the Ministerial Alliance Scholarship Foundation at Pilgrim Baptist. He was introduced by Rev. John Dixie Jr., Alliance president.

The speaker pointed out that Christ is the true foundation of learning. He discussed the importance of honesty, respect, and self-control in parents as well as youths.

He noted: "If more people thought of God as a requirement rather than an elective, all of today's problems would be solved."

WILLIAM ANDERSON Funeral services for William Anderson, 70, 612 W. Michigan, were held Feb. 4 in Jacobs Brothers Funeral Home. He died Jan. 28 in Methodist Hospital.

Mr. Anderson was a postal clerk more than 20 years before retiring in 1962. He was a member of Wilson Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Cole served on a committee called Negro Citizen Health Committee formed in 1949 to acquaint persons with the services offered at the health department. She organized and conducted a colored health conference and a class for colored mothers. She was a recognized by the city as "Citizen of the Week" in 1953. Her co-workers gave a retirement party for her in the department building on Fifth street.

Mrs. Cole was born and educated in Indianapolis and received her nurse training there. She has a brother, John Turk, who still lives in Indianapolis and sells pianos for the Riddick Piano Company. She not only has had recognition from Henderson but is well known in the city here.

She is a member of the Federated College Women's Club and also the Muchachas Club. Mrs. Cole has received many appreciation gifts. She owns her own home at 517 Evans.

Mrs. Eunice Alderson of South Denby was elected social chairman of the New Hope credit Union at its regular board meeting the past week. She served so well during the past election that the board realized they needed someone to do this job.

Captain James Roberts, 58, of South Denby slipped and fell the past week while fighting a fire in the basement of a one-story brick home on Mulberry. The captain was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in an ambulance, where he was treated for an injury to his left leg.

Captain Roberts serves on the deacon board at McFarland Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ruth Calhoun was host to the Muchachas Club the past week in her lovely home on Ravard Park Drive. After the business session, a delightful luncheon was served in the dining room, where a beautiful centerpiece of multi-colored flowers and candles enhanced the dining table. Table prizes were awarded to six of the members.

Baseball has been kind, money-wise, to the aspiring Negro athlete, but the above facts show that the Negro ball player has made positive contributions to the "game."

Now is the time for baseball to take another step forward and place more Negroes in the office of the Commissioner of Baseball.

Evansville, Ind.

By CLEONA SCOTT

EVANSVILLE—Mrs. Jane Cole retired as a public health nurse after 32 years of service, and due recognition for devotion to duty and a job well done was bestowed upon her.

Mrs. Cole, associated with the Henderson County Health Department, was cited for service over the years and for achievements in her chosen field.

On Thursday, Jan. 26, Mrs. Cole officially retired after ministering service to both white and Negro patients. She was the first Negro public health nurse in the State of Kentucky. At the time she was called to the Henderson department, she was nursing in a hospital in Louisville. She spearheaded many health programs for the colored population in Henderson.

Mrs. Cole served on a committee called Negro Citizen Health Committee formed in 1949 to acquaint persons with the services offered at the health department. She organized and conducted a colored health conference and a class for colored mothers. She was a recognized by the city as "Citizen of the Week" in 1953. Her co-workers gave a retirement party for her in the department building on Fifth street.

Mrs. Cole was born and educated in Indianapolis and received her nurse training there. She has a brother, John Turk, who still lives in Indianapolis and sells pianos for the Riddick Piano Company. She not only has had recognition from Henderson but is well known in the city here.

She is a member of the Federated College Women's Club and also the Muchachas Club. Mrs. Cole has received many appreciation gifts. She owns her own home at 517 Evans.

Mrs. Eunice Alderson of South Denby was elected social chairman of the New Hope credit Union at its regular board meeting the past week. She served so well during the past election that the board realized they needed someone to do this job.

Captain James Roberts, 58, of South Denby slipped and fell the past week while fighting a fire in the basement of a one-story brick home on Mulberry. The captain was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in an ambulance, where he was treated for an injury to his left leg.

Captain Roberts serves on the deacon board at McFarland Baptist Church.

Mrs. Ruth Calhoun was host to the Muchachas Club the past week in her lovely home on Ravard Park Drive. After the business session, a delightful luncheon was served in the dining room, where a beautiful centerpiece of multi-colored flowers and candles enhanced the dining table. Table prizes were awarded to six of the members.

Baseball has been kind, money-wise, to the aspiring Negro athlete, but the above facts show that the Negro ball player has made positive contributions to the "game."

Now is the time for baseball to take another step forward and place more Negroes in the office of the Commissioner of Baseball.

jumped into a 23-7 lead at the first period, but were outscored in the second and fourth periods.

Lead by the city's leading scorer, Gregg Northington, Wood held a 42-28 lead at the half, but were outscored 23-17 in the final canto.

Northington bagged 35 for the victors, while Mark McDonough had 23 for the losers.

On Saturday night, Wood turned back the Chartrand Rams, 73-61, behind Northington's 23 markers. Ken Morgan, who sat out the Chartrand game for disciplinary reasons, got 16.

Shortridge really poured it on Friday night, defeating Broad Ripple, 100-74, behind George Pillow's 38 points. The 100 points were the highest in the school's history, unofficially.

Ed Finch collected 20 points, and Leonard Taylor had 17. Oscar Enons hit for 19 points, Damon Ellison 18 and Pillow 17 as the Blue Devils turned back South Bend Riley, 77-60, Saturday night at the Shortridge gym.

The Tech Titans, the winning team in the city, defeated once-powerful Kokomo, 68-45, in a contest played Friday night on the Tech floor.

Gerald Sears led the win with 29 points, while Jim Price, a 20-point performer, was held to only 11. Ross Furry had 10.

Tech had an unexpected easy time against Washington Saturday night as they defeated the Westsiders, 75-42. The Titans held only a 14-12 lead at the end of the first period, but George McGinnis, Washington's outstanding 6-5 sophomore, was benched by Coach Jerry Oliver after only about three minutes of the first period. The reason given was disciplinary.

Nathan Appleton tallied 16 points, Marvin Tardy 12, Gerald Sears 11, and Furry 10 to lead the attack. Ron Thomas and Dwight Cole led Washington with 12 each.

McGinnis, the tallest player and leading rebounder on the Continental squad, had scored but three points when he was benched.

In other scores last week, on Friday Howe turned back Manual, 45-52, Warren Central defeated Arlington, 59-50. Windfall took the Deaf School, 31-50. Park School beat back Plainfield Charlton, 65-51, and Ritter outshot Kennedy, 71-53.

On Saturday night, Ben Davis beat Cathedral, 71-53. Bloomington University took Kennedy, 71-52, Illinois Deaf outlasted Indiana Deaf, 49-47. Pike got past Northwest, 53-48. Specina defeated Ritter, 67-53. Warren Central cornered Howe, 65-48, and Sulphur Springs shot past Park, 74-60.

2 hospitalized after shooting in tavern

A charge of assault and battery with intent to kill against a 41-year-old Northside man was continued in Municipal Court Room 6 Monday in connection with the shooting of two men in the Place to Play Tavern, 530 Indiana.

Police were called to the tavern about 10:30 p.m. Saturday where they found the two victims, Robert Martin, 31, 3134 N. New Jersey, and Roger (Snooks) Head, 51, 523 W. Michigan, in serious condition from gunshot wounds.

The accused assailant, David Lewis, 41, 722 W. 42nd, left the scene before police arrived but turned himself in at police headquarters a few minutes later.

Lewis told homicide detectives investigating the case that he and several other tavern patrons had been discussing the Cassius Clay - Ernie Terrell fight when Martin came into the tavern and joined the conversation.

Lewis said that Martin had accidentally.

The bullet struck Martin in the neck when he took the revolver from his pocket and pointed it at Martin in an effort to scare Lewis. The gun discharged through his body and struck Head, who was seated several feet away, in the chest.

said the bundles were found underneath the seat where Mr. Burhannon was sitting.

Th policeman, Burhannon related, said the Northside cab driver, Robert Wilcox, said he saw Mr. Burhannon put the packages there, but the driver repudiated this statement and at the trial testified that he did not see the policeman take the goods from beneath the seat. In fact he was following orders to open his trunk.

Mr. Burhannon said Lt. Jones informed him they were trying to "get Walter Anderson" and expressed the opinion that Mr. Burhannon could help a lot. (Anderson was acquitted by a Chicago jury on a narcotic charge.)

Lt. Jones, Mr. Burhannon declared, told him that he knew what kind of case they had on Anderson and that if he wanted to help himself he'd talk to Federal narcotic agent Fain Rankin.

Mr. Burhannon said he wasn't taken to police headquarters, didn't get handcuffed, and wasn't fingerprinted. However, at the trial Lt. Jones testified that Mr. Burhannon was fingerprinted but when the defendant's lawyer, Atty. Howard J. Diller of New York, asked to see the fingerprints, the prosecution could not produce any.

Upon arrival at the Post Office, Mr. Burhannon said, Lt. Jones told Rankin: "We've finally got a way to Anderson."

The opened packages revealed heroin and marijuana.

Mr. Rankin told Mr. Burhannon that he wanted him to aid in "setting up Anderson." Mr. Rankin dialed a telephone number at the In-Crowd Club, an establishment operated by Anderson, and Mr. Burhannon informed Mr. Anderson he wanted to talk to him.

Lt. Jones in turn arranged to meet Mr. Burhannon later on that night after he had arranged to make a "buy." Mr. Burhannon said he was taken to 19th and New Jersey and released. The policemen testified they gave Burhannon $40, but he denied taking any money.

He did note that Lt. Jones gave him a blank piece of paper and told him to sign it in the event that he didn't show up and he (Jones) would fill out to his own discretion.

Mr. Burhannon said he left New York and was free from January until October. He was arraigned in November on charges of purchasing one-fifth grams of heroin allegedly from Mr. Anderson - an act Mr. Burhannon said did not take place.

At the trial Mr. Burhannon said the marijuana bundle was never produced even after Atty. Diller asked about it and no charge of possession of marijuana was brought against Mr. Burhannon.

Atty. Diller noted the discrepancy here since it was Lt. Jones who used the heroin and marijuana to secure an indictment against Mr. Burhannon. Mr. Burhannon said two jurors slept through most of the trial.

Inspector Spurgeon Davenport, who was questioned at length on his "qualifications" to testify, said the police procedure was very improper and Burhannon's rights had been violated. He described the situation as "kidnap." Inspector Davenport noted that proper police procedures must be followed when placing a person under arrest and a report has to be made.

Mr. Ervin said: "I was shocked that he got convicted. It is a physical impossibility for any of these things the police testified about to happen."

Mr. Burhannon pleaded guilty to a narcotic charge in 1958 and served 27 months of a five-year sentence.

to a white neighborhood and then learn no more could move in. A man should have the right to move any place he wants to. The NAACP does not agree to a quota system in any form."

The director said "Realtors would have a field day on this type of thing." Mr. Hardy said the real estate dealers could develop a different type of "kill kit." "With this kind of bill a dealer could do all kinds of things in moving Negroes out of Center Township," he added. He foresees "block busting in a different way."

He reiterated that the NAACP never supported the bill and that it is a weak one so far as the Negro is concerned and a strong one so far as white people are concerned. It enables white people to limit the number of Negroes moving into their neighborhoods.

One spokesman said that the rumor the NAACP endorsed the bill may have started because the Indiana Conference on Civil Rights Legislation is supporting the resolution and the NAACP assisted in creating the Conference a long time ago.

The informant said the NAACP does not use this group as its lobbying force, and he could not see why the Conference supported the bill "but that's their business."

ception of the African Negro as being lazy, lethargic and cannibalistic.

"He thus made a deliberate attempt to disassociate himself from his obvious past because he had no reference to determine the worth or truth of this shameful image."

Boyd further stated that there is a need for change of emphasis on what contribution the Negro has made to the United States, but rather the emphasis should be what the contribution of the United States to the Negro is today.

"The Negroes contribution to society is an upkept garden which needs to be weeded out and portrayed in the history textbooks and general reference books."

The county councilman concluded by pointing out that "it is no moral or ethical crime in being a member of the black race and that in America the Negro has, in a sense, the same opportunity to make of himself an American of which all can be proud."

Mrs. Marie Bartee added to the program by singing moving renditions of two Negro spirituals, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" and "Steal Away to Jesus."

Administration progresses in housing, rights

The recently released city administration's annual report indicated that the Hoosier Capitol made strides in four fields including housing and human rights.

Plans for a couple of interracial public housing units were made and executed, among which are a 21-story apartment project for the low-income elderly at Michigan Street and Massachusetts Avenue and a 200-unit family housing project at West Michigan Street and Holmes Avenue. The projects come under the jurisdiction of the Indianapolis Housing Authority, which now is working on 14 proposals compared with three at the beginning of 1966.

In human rights, the report noted that expanded relocation services for persons displaced by public works programs were available and new code enforcement programs were initiated.

A marked increase in the number of integrated modern apartment complexes in formerly all-white areas amounted to from only nine in December, 1965, to 28 last December. The Human Rights Commission last year was assured by five major firms which manage several thousands housing units in the city that their residents will be chosen on a non-discriminatory basis.
